Ms. BERKLEY changed her vote from “nay” to “yea.”

So (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the Senate amendment was concurred in.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

(Mr. HOYER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Leader, obviously the Members as we all know on both sides have been here for some period of time today and are very obviously desirous of knowing what our schedule is.

I yield to the gentleman from Missouri.

Mr. BLUNT. I thank my friend for yielding. As you know, it is hard to predict how exactly everything is going to work out. It is a little difficult to predict these last days before an adjournment period or before we leave for a work period, either one.

We will officially convene tomorrow at 1 p.m. I think it is highly unlikely that there would be any vote before around 5, and we would give 2-hour notice in any reasonable way that we could before the first votes would occur.

Mr. HOYER. Reclaiming my time, would it be safe, therefore, for Members to conclude that they need not be here before 5? If we went in at 1, you gave 2 hours' notice, the first vote would be 3, but am I correct that the Defense appropriations conference has not convened because the chairman sadly lost his mother, and it is my understanding he is coming back sometime, maybe he came back this afternoon, but would I be reasonably correct in saying that the chances of the Defense appropriations bill being ready to report prior to 5 would be very slim?

I yield to my friend.

Mr. BLUNT. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend for yielding. We do have some suspensions for tomorrow, a few more suspensions. So we could have those before the report if it was not ready. I appreciate your comments also about the chairman's being away for his mother's memorial service. He did return this evening.

I believe the current plan is for their committee to meet early in the morning to have as much work as possible done before the committee meets and then to have that to Rules by midday. Obviously, we may not make all of those deadlines. If we do, we could very well be having our first votes at 5. We would give 2 hours' notice before that. So the earliest I would expect Members to get a notice that we would have votes in 2 hours would be around 3 o'clock.

Mr. HOYER. Reclaiming my time, what I think then the message, correct me if I am wrong, Mr. Leader, is that Members can be assured that they will not have votes prior to 5 p.m. tomorrow, and presumably, notice would go out at 3 o'clock if votes were to be at 5 o'clock; would that be accurate?

Mr. BLUNT. I thank my friend for yielding, and that is my accurate view of what is almost certain to happen tomorrow.

Mr. HOYER. Reclaiming my time, we do understand that the Defense appropriations committee conference report would probably be on the agenda. Can you tell us whether we expect the Defense authorization and/or the budget reconciliation bill also might be under consideration tomorrow?

I yield to my friend.

Mr. BLUNT. I thank my friend for yielding.

You are right. The Appropriations Committee product, we have already discussed and we would expect, matter of fact, we are certain, as certain as you can be this time of year, of that for tomorrow. I think there is an excellent chance that we could get the budget reconciliation bill tomorrow, and we are still working to do what we can to bring Defense authorization to the floor.

Mr. HOYER. I thank the gentleman for that information. Can you tell us, can Members be relatively assured that they will be able to plan at least at
